I KNOW A GIRL—
SHE'S A BEAR
NUTBROWN EYES
BEYOND COMPARE
I LOVE HER TIVE
INDEED I DO
I TELL YOU, BOYS
SHE'S THERE—WHERE?

CHORUS—
IN LOVELAND LANE—
TAKE IT FROM ME
THERE'S A BEACH OF A JANE
AND ILL HAPPY BE WHEN I
ONCE MORE SEE
MY LIZZIE OF LOVELAND LANE

NOW—
ALL TOGETHER
!!

CHORUS—
IN LOVELAND LANE—
TAKE IT FROM ME
THERE'S A
PEACH OF A JANE
AND ILL HAPPY BE WHEN I
ONCE MORE SEE
MY LIZZIE OF LOVELAND LANE

BASEBALL WILL BE CONFINED TO THE MAJORS IF WAR KEEPS UP

Minor Leagues Are Going Out of Existence Rapidly, and This Season the Crop of Young Players Less Than Usual, Says Critic; Many Players of Little Class Flocking Around Big Leagues.

By DAYTON STODDARD.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Francis Villon may rest in peace some where between the dodo and the mid-Victorian collection of antiquities, but at any rate we'll answer the question he asked some four or five centuries back.

Francis, it may be remarked in passing, was a wise poet. When it came to telling us a great deal we don't know about the evils of love—he was there 40 different ways. But still he was, as we said before, one wise owl.

If he'd been living today he would have laid down his bets on everything that looked like a winner. We gather thus much from the fact that he says: "Where are the knows of yesterday?" Some people take this to mean that he was asking where are the girls of yesterday, but we may safely assume them that it isn't so.

One girl is sufficient; yes, sadly we may say that one is more than sufficient, and yet ten are insufficient. So there. At any rate, love is out of place in any sport column, so we'll simply say that what Francis asked at answered fully by a slant at the big league rosters.

In other words plain enough for a college professor, the knows are still with us. They left, to be true, but they are back again. All the way from Hans Wagner down, they are just where they were in the yesterday. Of course, some folks would refuse to believe any ball tosser could properly be termed a know, but we know different. Don't they fall just as hard? They do.

But even if the simile is confusing denoting our condition of thought at the moment of uttering away on the underwood, the fact stands out quite clearly that seldom in the history of baseball have so many old timers been recalled, kept on the payroll and everything of the sort.

Every bird who hasn't been handed the raspberry by every one of the sixteen major league clubs is out playing ball. And the reason is that the rules require nine men on the field in uniform for each side, not counting the umpire.

To be sure, some of the returning

HOME RUN MADE IN PECULIAR WAY

Rockford, Ill., July 28.—Outfielder McCabe made what was probably the "freakiest" home run in Three-I league history in the recent series with Hannibal here. When McCabe hit the ball, outfielder Lorraine, of Hannibal, dashed to the left field fence in an effort to get it. Lorraine thrust his hands against the fence to save himself from injury and the little finger of his ungloved hand became caught between two boards. He pulled frantically to free himself while McCabe was tearing around the bases. Manager Castle rushed over from center to aid Lorraine, but when the finger was out of the trap McCabe had scored.

JOSEPH TINKER AGAINST LIMIT

Manager Joe Tinker of the Columbus club is a little worried over the drafting of ball players for the army. Columbus players who are among those numbered are: Hushbrook, McCarty, John, George, Coleman, and Ehrhart. Manager Tinker has wired president Hickey, suggesting that something be done immediately regarding the 15 player limit, so as to enable the club to carry a few extra men now and be prepared in case of any of the players being taken away. It would also help the club to take on a player or two from some of the disbanded leagues for a short trial.

INDIANS RELEASE ROGGE TO LINCOLN WESTERN CLUB

The return of Cy Falkenberg, after failing to make the grade with the Athletics, caused the Indianapolis A. A. management to cut down his pitching staff by one man. Pitcher Clinton Rogge has been released to Lincoln of the Western league, under an optional agreement.

JOHN RICHARDS BACK ON THE JOB

Los Angeles, Calif., July 28.—Owing to the strong probability that John E. Richards, former coach, who was a star football on the University of Wisconsin team a few years ago, will succeed Dr. Paul Withington as head football coach next fall, Dr. Withington has joined the medical reserve corps.
